Inherent Beauty of Natural Wood
Wood brings a touch of warmth and luxury to any space. Its unique grain patterns add depth and texture to the window.

Optimum Light Control and Privacy
Tilt slats to any angle or position for customizable light-control and privacy settings.

Coordination With Home Décor
Parkland® blinds feature on-trend colors and finishes that perfectly complement the wood styles found in furniture, flooring, cabinetry and other home décor.

Environmental Responsibility
Hunter Douglas donates a portion of every Parkland blind purchase to the Arbor Day Foundation®, which assists with the reforestation of U.S. forests and preservation of rainforest land internationally.

Benefits of Parkland® Wood Blinds include the beauty of real wood, plus custom finishes and many decorative options.

Flat Grain
A swirl pattern produced by cutting tangent to growth rings.

Tiger Striping
A grain structure caused by irregular growth due to temperature changes.

Mineral Deposits
Result of environmental factors affecting a tree's development.

Grain Change
A place in the grain structure where a branch grew and caused growth rings to move in a different direction.

Pin Knots
Remnants of branches covered by the growth of new wood.

Burl Figures
Formed by irregular growth on a tree's outer surface.

Distinct grain patterns and markings are common characteristics of authentic wood that can be found in Parkland® Wood Blinds. Each unique mark or pattern reveals the special beauty associated with a natural material.

2" Slat
For traditional view-through.

2½" Slat
For wider view-through to the outdoors.
